

The Marin Community Foundation
invites you to a community conversation

out of poverty:
from surviving
to thriving!

At this gathering, you will:

- Be the first to hear about a new report, A Portrait of Marin, produced by the American Human Development Project. The report provides a new perspective on the county's challenges and opportunities to help people thrive by analyzing data on Marin's health, education, and income. Copies of the report will be available.
- Hear from community leaders who are helping Marin residents benefit from tools and skills to help them succeed.
- Have a chance to share your own thoughts and engage with our staff, Trustees, and presenters.

Featured presenters:

- Sarah Burd-Sharps and Kristen Lewis, American Human Development Project
- Makini Hassan, Marin City CDC
- Carla Javits, REDF
- Ben Mangan, EARN
- Salvador Menjivar, OnePacificCoast Foundation

Poverty in Marin

It is well known that despite Marin's reputation as one of the wealthiest counties in the U.S., many people here struggle to make it. While safety-net services are critically important, especially during times of economic stress, long-term solutions to poverty lie in providing greater opportunities for economic success—ones that can lead to better-paying jobs, increased savings, and the ability to start small businesses.

During this gathering, you'll hear about some of the strategies that are helping people move out of poverty in Marin County. And you'll gain a new perspective on how this issue plays out in Marin—and how that can provide greater focus to our collective efforts.
